

ALBATROS

CUBE ACB

The cube ACB is used to control, deflect or detect light beams in optical set-ups. It is constructed in a way that enables the user to cascade the cubes to different arrangements - double or triple or more combinations. Even 90° arrangements are possible. The variety of available inserts puts the user into the position to solve optical problems.